OLD TIMES IN FRANKFORT.

No. VII.

Forty years ago, the dramatic spirit was strong with the young men of Frankfort. Amateur companies were organized, popular plays put upon the stage, with all the assurance of old professionals, costumes and scenery purchased, borrowed or improvised, the different characters assumed, according to recognized or supposed talent, and the stage strain and mere dramatic misery performed before crowded houses. Many humorous episodes occurred during the rendition of these amateur theatricals that never failed to "bring down the house." Much ingenuity and not a little address and tact were displayed in putting the plays and players as well, on the stage. In which the managers and actors were all assisted by their mothers, sisters and sweethearts. Considerable money was also distributed for charitable purposes. From admission fees one company alone distributing over $2,500.

An upper room in the Barstow Building, on the corner of St. Clair and Broadway, was the scene of many theatricals and shows. An amateur performance was on the boards one night, in which Wm. King and Jas. Watson were actors. King, in his character, was in disguise, and was in the midst of his recitation, repeating, in a deep stage voice, "Ye woods and wills, whose melancholy gloom"—when a small boy from a group near the stage—penetrating his disguise—said rather loudly, "that's Billy King." King suddenly broke off in his recitation, turned to the small boy, and in an undertone of ineffable disgust, that was audible all over the house, exclaimed "you he d—d," and then, raising his voice he concluded his rendition in sonorous tones with the words "accords with the sentiment of my soul's sadness." The tragic words, and the interpretation being both heard and appreciated by the audience, evoked immense applause.

The Metropolitan Theatre, on St. Clair street, with its narrow entrance and its central rows of seats rising tier upon tier from the stage, was the principal place of amusement prior to 1867, when it was destroyed by fire.

Among the noted actors and actresses of that period, who appeared at the Metropolitan Theatre, were: Barney McCandey, Rachel Johnson, M. A. Meeker and wife, H. A. Weaver and wife, B. B. Golden and wife, McKean Buchanan, H. A. Stetson, and Maggie Mitchell. The great humorist and comic delineator, Alf Burnett, and the accomplished ventriloquist and sleight-of-hand performer, Signor Blitz, also gave appearances upon its stage.

There were frequent amateur theatricals and concerts rendered at intervals, and with great success, by the combined "talent" of the city. These unique affairs were almost always accompanied by incidents of most amusing character that long lived to be the pleasure-gossip of the social circle.

Probably one of the most notable of these amateur entertainments was a musical concert given by a company of assumed Italiots, consisting of Ed. Hensley, as Signor Edwardo Henskiss; Wm. H. Averill, as Signor Averill; Sam C. and Charles G. Leonard; the brothers Leonard; Ed. Mitchell, attired as a female, as Mademoiselle Mitchell; Bob Holton, arrayed in an immense gown belonging to Marsh Wood's mother, as Madam Elephant, his huge proportions showing off to advantage; R. B. Taylor, as Dan Bedi Hulley, and Billy Hardie as Mome Billie Hardie, also took prominent parts. With instruments of enormous size and grotesque shapes, some of these amateur Italiots excelled, in front of a large curtain or shield, most difficult pieces—the real execution being by skilled musicians, stationed behind the curtains—though the deception upon the audience was complete. Some of the performers were never known to play a note or sing a line. One performer, in spade-tail coat and hair parted in exquisite fashion, and as unskilled in music as a goose in a quadrille, performed a difficult solo on the violin, to the delight of the audience. But in responding to the encore, the real performer behind the curtain suddenly ceased to play, leaving the supposed amateur sawing away in empty pantomime, thus disclosing the deception.

Of another popular company, Mr. Sam D. Johnson was a captivating female character. With head decorated with bands that gracefully lay below the chin, and wearing a beautiful cream-colored silk dress with high corsage, he (or she) handled his (or her) fan and kicked (his or her) long trail with the grace and tact of the most accomplished queen of the "upper 10." Mr. Chas. Starling also appeared as a female character, but with a masculine tendency, his large left hand always "bringing down the house," with its manipulation of the fan. Billy Dunlap, Bob Parent, John B. Dryden and others were members of this company.

In the pathetic melodrama of "Ten Nights in a Bar Room," which was repeated several times to large audiences, with marked appropriateness of costume and scenic effect, John B. Dryden appeared as Joe Morgan, the drunkard; Geo. L. Payne, as Wilton Hammond, and Wayland Graham, as Joe Morgan's wife. Jimie Todd sustained the character of Harvey Green, the Gambler; John W. Payne, that of Romuald; Bob Tildord appeared as Melchior Cartwright, and Frank Gray did a comic part.

The same company also presented the play of Solon Shingle and other minor pieces.

Perhaps the most successful production by Frankfort amateurs was that of the entata of Queen Esther, rendered with rich costumes and splendid scenic effect, before crowded and applauding houses in this city of Lexington. The singing of Mrs. Orifson, Mrs. John W. Bodman, Mrs. Tom Bodman and Mrs. Cutton, of Versailles, was a distinguished feature in this Biblical presentation.

Upon the disbandment of another amateur company, and a division of the money in the treasury, Thos. B. Ford was expelled on the ground of being tardy at rehearsals, but really to make the money divide evenly—there being one person too many for that desired end.

The fire that consumed the Metropolitan Theatre in 1867, was the first of a series of disastrous conflagrations that rapidly followed. This fire extended as far as Weller's confectionery, in the middle of the block. A later fire destroyed the half of the north side of the two blocks between St. Clair and Ann streets, except the building where Hardie's drug store now is, and the three-story building on the corner of Ann and Broadway. Another fire began at the Mansion House and burned to Dr. Rodman's office, a child of Jackson's being burned to death, and still another fire burned on the South side of Main street, from Ann to the Bellzell building, on Lewis street.

STAGE BECOMES RIVAL OF CHURCH.

Bible Scenes and Characters Are Soon to be Presented to Theatre-goers—Will do Great Good or Work Much Harm.

Question Has Been Raised as to Advisability of Putting on Such a Play.

The tremendous question of which this stage is about to raise, as it has never been before, in Frankfort. Gordon & Bennett's Company will produce at the Capital Theatre, next Wednesday, February 28, a play dealing with the "Life of Our Lord." The play is called "The Holy City," and is by Clotilde Bennett, a journalist. It is in blank verse.

The principal characters are Mary Magdalene; Barabbas, described as a "dissipated, perfidious, treacherous, and unfeeling scoundrel"; Judas, the High Priest; Peter and John, the disciples; Lazarus and Zacharias, Elizabeth, mother of John the Baptist; King Herod and his wife; the Princess Cleopatra; and twenty other imaginary characters complete the cast. There are four acts and a total dramatic personae of forty people.

But the most interesting story of the play is as follows: Mary of Magdalene is beloved of Barabbas, and is also the favorite of Clotilde.

Act 1 finds Barabbas, who is hunted by the Roman soldiers, hidden in the room. Captain Dennis, a dissipated Roman James Isidor, and a number of women all met in Mary's house for pleasure. The subject is raised of the wonders of creation and the grand and miraculous incident Mary knocks a vase into the street where the Lord and His followers are preaching and healing the sick. Enraged Simon Peter and a mob break into Mary's house and Peter kills Dennis. Dennis, however, at the same time, telling her of the death of her brother, Lazarus. The act closes with the conversion of the Magdalene after three struggles with the temptation of her evil life. She looks out the strong light indicates that Christ has turned His pitying gaze upon her, and the curtain falls upon her in prayer.

Act 2 takes place in the courtyard of Martha's home. Here within the house the Lord is visiting. Mary, poorly clad and penitent, returns to her home and is struck with wonderment to find Lazarus within the room. Lazarus, in the house, anoints the head of Christ with precious ointment. Returning, her exaltation has reached such heights that she exclaims, "Zacharias, come hither, by command that the Lord has so commanded her." Hither comes Barabbas, who renewes his frenzy of love. He is enraged when Mary tells him that she will follow the Nazarene. Barabbas is taken by the guards, but he escapes with the help of Christ, of Christ.

Act 3 deals with the judgment of Pilate, the dereliction of Peter, and the release of Barabbas, and the order for the crucifixion.

Act 4 tells the story of the Lord's death—the thunders and earthquakes and the rending of the veil.

FRANKFORT, FEB. 3, 1906

TO OUR PATRONS AND THE PUBLIC.

A number of baseless statements have gone to the public with regard to affairs in our office. We desire to say that ALL of our REGULAR LAB FORCE are at work and are satisfied with their positions and compensation. They have been with us for long years.

In addition, we have not a printer in our office to whom we are not paying regularly as much, if not more, than the union printers are paid.

The men who went out came here to do some extra work, and were notified of the conditions under which they could be employed before they went to work and accepted them. They, and they alone, undertook to change the status of affairs.

No man can truthfully say that we have ever mistreated any one in our employ. We have tried always to treat them as we wish to be treated ourselves, under like circumstances.

Another fact, our work has in NO WAY been interfered with or retarded.

It is hardly necessary for us to say this to the people where we were born and have spent our lives, but the general public may not know the true state of the case.

Most, if not all, the stories in careful circulation about the matter are simply and wholly false.

For Thin Babies

Fat is of great account to a baby; that is why babies are fat. If your baby is scrawny, Scott's Emulsion is what he wants. The healthy baby stores as fat what it does not need immediately for bone and muscle. Fat babies are happy; they do not cry; they are rich; their fat is laid up for time of need. They are happy because they are comfortable. The fat surrounds their little nerves and cushions them. When they are scrawny those nerves are hurt at every ungentle touch. They delight in Scott's Emulsion. It is as sweet as wholesome to them.

To Morphine From Doctor's Orders.

Habit Worse Than the Disease.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Cured Me.

When the nervous system has been shattered by the habit of deadly sins there is nothing equal to Dr. Miles' Nervine in restoring it to health and normal activity.

"I feel so grateful for what Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine has done for me that I must tell it for that part of humanity that suffers as I do. I have had the disease for over three years and suffered from nervous prostration. I found no relief except when doctors gave morphine. To get rid of suffering I took morphine myself, but I found it did not give me ease, and now you who point with scorn at morphine using, how could you when in such agony, knowing it about the only thing that would give you relief? I knew it was a terrible habit and I knew of its deadly grasp, but I never fully realized its sinfulness. I used it for a week, then a month, then a year, the misery of being addicted to such a habit. I resolved them and there to quit it and received I would never be a slave to any other again. I am happy now to notice Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and ordered a bottle. After using the five bottles I can truthfully say I am cured of this most terrible vice, however, some persons may doubt it, God is my witness I am cured. This testimonial is unsolicited and I am sending it to you to help others in their suffering." —MATTIE HILLIERS, Prescott, Ark.

BEAUTIFUL ENTERTAINMENT.

One of the prettiest entertainments of the season was that given by Col. E. H. Taylor, Jr., and Mr. J. Swigert Taylor and wife, in honor of Miss Mary Belle Taylor, at their handsome home, "Thistlewood," on the Louisville pike, two miles from the city, on Tuesday night.

The elegant home was beautifully decorated and brilliantly lighted from cellar to attic.

A very large crowd of beautiful women, fashionably attired, and attended by gentlemen in conventional dress suits, filled the house, from early in the evening until 12 o'clock at night.

The supper, which was served by Miss Benedict, of Louisville, was elegant and satisfying, and was handled by a corps of trained waiters, which added to the pleasure of the guests.

These good people always entertain in the best style and make every guest feel at home and the cordiality extended is refreshing and easy, and heartily congratulated their hosts and hostesses.

THE GRAND OLD MAN.

On Wednesday last the Legislature of Kentucky honored itself by honoring Hon. Preston H. Leslie, ex-Governor of the State of Kentucky and also of Montana (where he now resides).

Gov. Leslie is 88 years of age, and belongs to an age, long past, when there were intellectual giants in the Legislature and State of Kentucky.

Gov. Leslie, at the invitation of the Legislature, addressed that body in joint assembly. His mental and physical vigor are unabated and he is the same ruggedly honest, upright, Christian gentleman that he was when he sat in Kentucky's gubernatorial chair in the 70's. He steps about as vigorously as a much younger man.

While here he met quite a number of those who knew him when Governor, but he missed many a face that greeted him then of those that knew and loved him.

RAISE THE PRICE.

The business men of Frankfort have raised the price of backs to funerals, weddings and other entertainments from $3 to $1. Whoopie! Can't afford to be the or to marry at that rate.

AWFUL DEATH.

Conductor Peter Miller, of the C. & O. Railway, was caught under an overturned stove in a freight wreck on that road, near Preston, on Tuesday, and roasted to death. Horrible.

WOMEN'S WOES.

Frankfort Women are Finding Relief at Last.

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep up," must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, bearing down pains, they must stand still, when to stop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with aching backs and many aches from kidney ills. Kidneys cause more suffering than any other organ of the body. Kidneys are well and healthily easily maintained. Read of a remedy for kidneys only helps and cures the kidneys and is endorsed by people you know.

Mrs. Mildred S. Bettis, wife of Col. E. H. Taylor, chairman of the Short Street, says: "My kidneys troubled me for some years off and on. I tried different remedies, but without obtaining any permanent relief. The pain in my back was often very severe, especially at night, before retiring, and in the morning when I would first get up. There was also a kidney weakness, distressing at all times. I read about Doan's Kidney Pills, and noticed that the symptoms there cured were exactly mine. Writing to Doan, I almost anything to get relief, went to J. W. Gayle's drug store and got a box. I took them as directed and soon noticed the difference in my condition. The sharp pains and aching disappeared, and the other complaints were banished. Doan's Kidney Pills act like magic and the relief they give is lasting."

IMPORTANT DECISION.

The Court of Appeals, in an opinion rendered on Wednesday, held that the funds of National Banks, invested in government bonds, were exempt from taxation by the State, counties or municipalities. This is a far-reaching and important decision, and means a loss of revenue to the State of some $90,000.

A MYSTERY SOLVED.

"How to keep off periodic attacks of rheumatism" was a mystery that Dr. King's New Life Pills solved for me," writes John N. Pleasant, of Magnolia, Ind. The only pills that are guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction to everybody or money refunded. Only 25¢ at all druggists.

WHO BUILT IT?

The question has frequently been asked us who built the old stone bridge at the south end of the St. Clair street bridge. We would be glad if any one who knows would supply us with the information.

It is a splendid piece of work even now. The corners are as square as can be made and the walls are plumb and true, and reflect credit upon the workmanship of the man who built it.

THE END OF THE WORLD

Of troubles that robbed E. H. Wickford, Bar Give, La., of all business, he writes: "I began taking Electric Bitters. He writes:

"Two years ago Kidney trouble caused me great suffering, which I would never have survived had I not taken Electric Bitters. They are guaranteed to all Strength, Energy, and Kidney complaints. Blood diseases, Headache, Dizziness and Weakness or bodily decline. Price 50¢. Guaranteed by all druggists.

PENN-HOCKENSMITH—The following announcement has been made:

“Mr. Jesse Hockensmith and wife request the pleasure of your company at the marriage of their daughter

Jessie

To

Lee G. Penn

Which will occur on Wednesday, February 7th, 1866, at 8 o'clock, p. m.”

Miss Hockensmith is one of Franklin county's sweetest and most popular girls—a genuine Kentucky girl. Mr. Penn is one of our sturdiest and most upright physicians.

We send hearty congratulations in advance.

HULETTE-MOORE—One of the most brilliant social events of the season was the wedding of Miss Jessie Botts Hulette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hulette, of Franklin county, and Mr. Howard Moore. They were united in marriage at the home of the bride. The Rev. M. B. Adams, of Frankfort, performed the ceremony, which was beautiful. Long before the time appointed guests began to assemble until the home was filled to its fullest capacity. The bride looked unusually charming in her wedding gown of white silk trimmed with real lace and ribbon. She wore an exquisite bride's veil—an heirloom in the family. The best man was Mr. Curtis Moore. The maid of honor was Miss Anna Hoffman Clark, who wore a dainty gown of green, carrying out the wedding scheme of white and green. The groom and his attendants wore the conventional dress suit. After the ceremony the bride, attired in a beautiful gown of blue silk, received hearty congratulations. The bridal party left for a short stay with the bride's aunt, Mrs. Babe Cline, of Shelby county. We congratulate you, Mr. Moore, on winning the belle of the county.

SARAH BERNHARDT.

Sarah Bernhardt's passion for jewels and rich garments, is well known. On her American tour the French actress wears some of the strangest and most gorgeous ornaments seen on a mere mortal. Her appearance as one steps into her private car, is that of a modern Queen of Sheba. Priceless sables, gossamer lace, and shimmering satins form her ordinary attire. An account of the jewels accompanying her morning toilet is worth chronicling. About her slim throat Sarah wears a double chain of rare enamels and mosaics set with dull gold. The chain falls below her waist. On her left wrist is a heavy gold bracelet. Madame gives her left hand always in greeting all but her dearest friends for whom her right hand is reserved, and fortunate is the stranger to whom that right hand is extended at a first introduction. Bernhardt wears many rings. On the thumb of her left hand is a shield-shaped ring of green design. On the finger is a dull gold snake ring with a diamond sink in its head. This was a gift on New Year's day from the members of her company. Two enormous rings set with flashing gems are on the third finger. The forefinger of the right hand she wears a long coiled serpent in greenish gold, coming quite up to the first joint. Worn above this is a band of magnificent diamonds. Bernhardt's hands are exquisite, the true artist hands, long, slim and strong. Her hair is worn in an artistic chignon and is a burnished gold in color. Sarah's hair and her splendid eyes of gray violet have always been her chief beauties. Green is her favorite color, and she is much given to trailing crepe and simons silks, when choosing fabrics for her dresses, which are like no one else's in the world. Bernhardt travels in a special train, a car for herself and her dogs, and several coaches for the members of her company and numerous staff. Bernhardt plays an engagement at the City Music Hall from February 15 to 17, three evening performances and a matinee.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH—Rev. J. McE. Blayney,

A Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicine is great, exceeds the medicinal power of which it is derived and holds in solution much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable diuretic, emollient, and a powerful antiseptic. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherry bark, Golden Seal root, Sassafras, Quinine, and root contained in "Pierce's Medical Discovery" in subduing chronic, or lingering coughs, bronchial, rheumatic, and lung affections, for which it is well known and recommended by standard medical authorities.

All cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak, languid, and feeble condition, consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and tonic to the body. It is the "Sarsaparilla" of the animal kingdom.

C. says: "I was treated with chronic indigestion for several years; whatever I ate seemed to cause heartburn, sour stomach, fluttering of my heart, and general depression of mind and body. My doctor recommended Kodolypis Cura, and it relieved me at once. I can now eat anything and sleep soundly at night." Kodolypis Digests what you eat, makes the stomach sweet, Palatable, strengthening and affords quick relief. Sold by J. W. Gayle.

PROF. G. HOG!

Oh! but Prof. G. Hog saw this shadow, by a large majority, and incontinently retired from the outside world for six weeks' longer sleep.

As another evidence of the unusually mild winter which we have enjoyed so far, is the fact that the land terrapins are moving about.

The grandchildren of Mr. John T. Gallahue, at the Forks of Elkhorn, found one of these ancient gentle- men wandering around their home on Thursday of last week. The day was bright and sunny, and his honor concluded to take a stroll.

CLIMATIC CURES.

The influence of climatic conditions in the cure of consumption is very much overdone. The poor patient, and the rich patient too, are made to believe by proper attention to food digestion, and a regular use of German Syrup. Free expectoration in the morning is made certain by German Syrup, so is a good night's rest and the absence of a heavy load on the heart and debilitating night sweat. Restless nights and the exhaustion due to coughing, the greatest danger and dread of the consumptive, can be prevented or stopped by taking German Syrup, and regularly. Should you be able to get to a warmer climate, you will find that of the thousands of consumptives there, the few who are benefited and regain strength are those that use German Syrup. Trial 100c; regular size, 5c. At all drug-gists.

McCLURE'S WINTER CLEARING SALE

COMMENCES FRIDAY, FEB. 2.

Extreme Price Reductions. Extreme Variety of Merchandise.

The reason for this sale is this store's unalterable rule not to carry over goods made for one season to another. This winter's sale will be the greatest we have ever held. We have had the largest year's business in our history. Large business necessarily means large stocks. Consequently there will go in this sale more goods than we have ever before been able to offer on a like occasion. To sell more goods than in former sales means deeper price reductions. So in this sale you will find greater variety of absolutely high grade merchandise than many a store can offer at the season's beginning at prices so low as to almost compel buying. The early comers will of course have greatest choice to select from.

CLOTHING.

$12 Suits, worth up to $30.

Choice of our finest winter weight fancy suits, men's and young men's, for $12. We have never offered such clothing values as are involved in this $12 suit sale. The bulk of them are worth $20 to $25; quite a few retail regularly at $30; none are valued at less than $15. Every suit is hand made and of absolutely all wool material. Included are a number of hand finished worsteds, which are worth to-day 20 per cent. more than we paid for them early in the fall. Three months to wear these suits in yet and then they are good to start next fall with.

HALF PRICE ON THESE ARTICLES:

50c. Neckties at 25c.	Bags at half price.
